Owning a Phase Technologies product means you are the owner of one of the best performing power electronics on the market. We are so confident that you will be happy with the performance of our product that we are giving you an almost no-questions-asked return policy for the first year.

The Phase Purchase Protection (hereafter referred to as "PPP") provides a third year of protection for the Phase consumer. The PPP applies 12 months from the date of installation or 18 months from the date of manufacture. After the expiration of the first year, Phase Technologies' standard two-year limited warranty begins.

Disclaimer

Under the PPP, eligible products may be returned, refunded, or replaced within the first year, without explanation, if the product:

- ✦ Is in like-new condition; and
